

Bereskin & Parr Recognized as Canadian Patent Strategy Firm of the Year at the Life Sciences Awards: Americas 2022

September 23, 2022

Bereskin & Parr was recognized as Canadian Patent Strategy Firm of the Year at the Life Sciences Awards Americas 2022 ceremony. The award winners revealed on September 8 at the Essex House in New York, were recognized as some of the best legal practitioners and teams, both in the legal market and the life sciences industry.

The Life Sciences Awards highlight firms specializing in life sciences matters across the regulatory, corporate, intellectual property and litigation areas. Bereskin & Parr is proud to be recognized for its patent law practice and expertise in patent prosecution and evaluation of patent matters. The firm takes pride in its professionals' expertise encompassing a variety of scientific disciplines. This diverse array of legal expertise makes us one of the strongest and most qualified IP legal practices in Canada.

The full awards list can be viewed here.

About LMG Life Sciences

LMG Life Sciences is a guide to leading law firms and lawyers in the life sciences industry. Published by Legal Media Group/Euromoney, this guide, along with its annual LMG Life Sciences Awards and practice area rankings, identifies professionals considered by peers and clients as reputable and top tier in the life sciences industry. The results determined through rigorous research highlight different practice areas including regulatory, intellectual property, finance and transaction, and non-IP litigation and enforcement.